TSUNAMI SIREN TESTING

Northland's network of tsunami sirens in coastal communities will be tested on Sunday 29 September 2024.

The sirens will sound at 10am for 10 minutes and 10.30am for 30 seconds.

The twice-yearly checks are carried out at the beginning and end of daylight saving.

The upcoming test involves the current siren network only; the newly installed upgraded sirens will not be tested at this time.
